

Czernyson Mares Mistery Woman, Coffeecake Hanover Headed To Breeding Shed

Seven of the 13 races on the Friday night card at the Meadowlands are for trotters, and two races feature solid contenders trained by Jonas Czernyson, who is training horses up north this winter instead of in South Florida. Czernyson and his wife, Christine, have bought a house in New Jersey.

"We moved in a few weeks ago but we just got our furniture," said Czernyson on Dec. 30. "We did have one bed, one couch, and 2 TVs, and the racing channel, so we were OK."

Czernyson has 45 horses in training at Winner's International training center in New Jersey, including Friday night starters Mistery Woman and Coffeecake Hanover. Mistery Woman won her last start, Dec. 19, beating Master Of Law by a comfortable margin. She's battling the boys again, although Master Of Law is not in the field in Race 6 Friday night, a B-1/A-1/FFA Handicap carrying a purse of $30,000.

"She's about the same as she was when she won the Allerage at Lexington. She just took a while to get good last year," said Czernyson. "We're going to keep racing her if she shows she wants to race, but no matter how good she is, come February we're breeding her. She's going to be bred to Muscle Hill."

Czernyson said he has raced in-foal mares in the past, but with Mistery Woman, a 5-year-old daughter of Donato Hanover with a mark of 1:51 and $480,360 in earnings, he is inclined to make her retirement from racing official when she is bred. "It's a lot of money to invest in breeding, so you want to give her a chance," he said.

Coffeecake Hanover, also a 5 year old, won on Dec. 12 at the Meadowlands but didn't fare as well in her last start on Dec. 26, finishing seventh in 1:53.3. She's 20-1 on the morning line with the close favorites in the race Rolls Blue Chip (4-1), Sweet Justice (7-2) and It Really Matters (3-1).

"She's on the same program as Mistery Woman, she'll be bred this year," said Czernyson of Coffeecake Hanover, a daughter of Cantab Hall. "We haven't completely decided who to breed her to, but I think she might go to Trixton." — By Kathy Parker

Miami Valley Opens 2015 Meet Friday Night

Among the tracks open for racing this weekend is Miami Valley north of Cincinnati, which begins its second harness meet on Friday night, Jan. 2. Race secretary Gregg Keidel has full fields for both the Friday night and Saturday night cards. Post time is 6:30 p.m.

With just under $6 million in the purse account as the meet opens thanks to proceeds from video lottery terminals, Miami Valley's purses are up over the prior meet. The live racing calendar calls for 89 programs from Jan. 2 through May 3 in 2015, up from 65 race cards in 2014. Average nightly purse distribution will be approximately $90,000 for the first month of the upcoming season, a considerable increase over the $60,000 in average nightly purses in 2014. The $5,000 claiming pace for horses and geldings carried a purse of $4,000 in February 2014, but is now at $4,500. The Open Pace received a more substantial increase, jumping from $9,500 to $15,500.

Miami Valley opened for racing in February 2014 and while its five-eighths mile racing surface was applauded, the paddock was criticized for its lack of basic winter racing amenities, most notably heat. The paddock has since been fully insulated and overhead gas heating units have been placed throughout the building. Bath stalls have been improved, including the addition of several huge hot water tanks. In addition, seven more television monitors have been placed throughout the paddock.

Baillargeon Finding Doncango Can Go

Doncango has been in trainer Ben Baillargeon's barn only two months, but one thing seems certain: The newly-turned 4-year-old trotter likes the camera. Following a sixth-place finish in his Woodbine Racetrack debut for the Baillargeon Stable after being purchased at the Harrisburg mixed sale for $62,000, Doncango has won two straight, prevailing by a nose in photo finishes in each.

"He's a nice horse," offered Baillargeon. "I still have a little bit of improvement on him to do, and that will come with time. I really like him; I think he's a keeper."

A son of Donato Hanover, Doncango is out of the A Go Go Lauxmont mare B Cor Tamgo, making him a half brother to the undefeated 2002 Two-Year-Old Colt Trotter of the Year

"He doesn't give 100 percent yet, but when a horse comes by him, then he'll fight."

— Ben Baillargeon
on Doncango

Broadway Hall and 2008 William Wellwood Memorial winner Tom Cango. Bred by Arlene and Jules Siegel, Doncango was campaigned as a 2 year old by trainer Jim Campbell before being purchased at the 2013 Harrisburg mixed sale for $42,000 by Bernie

Noren, assistant trainer in the Ake Svandstedt Stable.

Doncango made 10 starts for Team Svandstedt in 2014, with a lone 1:54 victory at the Meadowlands. That win prompted the trotter being entered in the $1 million Hambletonian at the Meadowlands, but he made a break, joining heavy favorite Father Patrick and Datsyuk on the gallop at the start.

Later entered a second time to be sold at Harrisburg, Baillargeon bought Doncango on behalf of a partnership of himself, Claude Hamel and Santo and Nunzio Vena. Baillargeon said he started from scratch with Doncango once he got him back to his farm in Rockwood, Ont.

"I had no idea what he wore," he said. "The first week I raced him with an open bridle and since he's still a stud that wasn't good for him. The second time around I changed the shoeing up front and put a Kant See Back blinker on him and he responded very well."

Doncango's two Woodbine victories came with Baillargeon's brother, Mario, in the sulky. Both wins also came after starting from post 6. On Dec. 6, Doncango made the front early, got covered up in the two hole and then, after re-taking the lead in midstretch, held off a late rally by JC's Jake to get the nod in 1:56.4. On Dec. 20, Doncango got away second before being moved to the front down the backstretch and then holding off Seawind Pascale at the wire in 1:55.

"He doesn't give 100 percent yet, but when a horse comes by him, then he'll fight," said Ben Baillargeon. "Last week I thought he would win by five, but when Mario pulled the plugs he sat on the bike. I guess he's scared to get beat. I think there is more to come for him."

Doncango was the betting favorite in each of his two victories, and by just a few dollars he is able to squeak by one more week in the same class—a $20,000 race for non-winners of three races or $75,000(C) lifetime. Doncango's latest victory brought his career earnings to $73,939(C). He will start from post 2 in Race 3 on Saturday night at Woodbine as the 5-2 morning-line favorite to three-peat.

Baillargeon said Doncango's upcoming starts include the Don Mills Series in April at Woodbine.

"He's been a better horse at the farm the last two or three weeks," he said. "When I first bought him he was pretty rambunctious. He wanted to be a bully, but now he's two-fingers."

Also at Woodbine on Saturday night, and making his first start as a 7 year old, is Modern Legend, who lit up the Mohawk toteboard back on Aug. 30 when he won the $583,280 Canadian Pacing Derby at odds of 66-1. He later finished fourth in the Breeders Crown Open Pace at the Meadowlands.

Modern Legend finished a close fifth as the 4-5 betting favorite last time out in the $34,000 Preferred after starting from the outside post 10. After sitting last week out when the top-class race didn't fill, Modern Legend will again start from the outside post in the $34,000 Preferred, but this time from the seven slot behind the gate. James MacDonald has been named to drive Modern Legend by owner-trainer Dave Drew. — By Gordon Waterstone

This payment covers 2015 matings (foals of 2016).

In addition to the 2015 service fee, the amount of the stallion nomination fee must include a surcharge as follows:

a) For stallions that stand for a fee from US$3,000 to $5,999 (or $3,410.50 CAD (Canadian Dollars) to $6,819.87CAD), an additional amount equal to 40% of 2015 service fee must be paid;

Moreover, if a nominated stallion does not breed more than twenty (20) mares in 2015 or produce more than fifteen (15) registered foals in 2016, up to 50% of the stallion nomination fee may be refunded, provided, however, that it shall be the obligation of the stallion nominator to notify the Society in writing of any request for adjustment by December 31, 2015. With the exception of supplemental nominations or declarations as provided in the conditions, foals of 2016 by a stallion for which the above nomination fee has been refunded will be ineligible to the Breeders Crown unless an additional amount equal to the amount of the refund is paid.

Except as provided above, stallion nomination fees shall not be refunded.

Stallion payments may be made in the local currency of the nation in which the stallion stands, or in equivalent U.S. funds ($500 U.S. funds minimum).

Conditions for nominating yearlings will be published U.S.T.A. Stakes & Futurities Nomination Book. Specific conditions for the races for which these foals are eligible will be published in the U.S.T.A. Stakes Guide in the year of the races. STRETCH CALL

BY DAVE BRIGGS

The 15 best stories in harness racing in 2014

Before we're too hasty with the out-with-the-old routine, let's take a moment to ponder some of the best stories in harness racing in 2014. Here's my ranking of the top 15:

15. Ontario's five-year, $500 million deal

This one would rank in my top five, maybe even numero uno, if it came with a long-promised, long-delayed new source of gaming revenue and wasn't a giant mea culpa from the province's ruling Liberal Party that blundered mightily when it cancelled the lucrative Slots at Racetracks Program that was a winner for all parties involved — especially taxpayers. Still, this deal stabilized an industry that was tanking rapidly. For that, it makes the list.

14. Commander Crowe crowned

Third time was the charm in the Breeders Crown for this striking 11-year-old European invader. His victory not only was the perfect cap to the Crown's 30th anniversary bash, he further opened the door for future international participation, the key to tapping crucial foreign betting markets.

13. Christoforou's comeback

Just a few years after his career was in freefall, three-time Canadian driver of the year Chris Christoforou rebounded with his best campaign in eight years and was tabbed as a finalist as his country's best reinsman in 2014 (winner to be announced in February).

12. Andy Miller's comeback

Seven months after a crash at Yonkers that left him with two broken vertebrae, driver Andy Miller made a remarkable comeback driving Traceur Hanover to victory in the Breeders Crown 2-Year-Old Colt Pace.

11. LandMark 6 gets Hambletonian horse

In a moonshot for fractional ownership groups and anyone who ever dreamed of owning even a tail-hair of horse, the LandMark 6 group not only landed in the Hambletonian with the Mark Steacy-trainee Harper Blue Chip, they finished third out of the nine hole at 46-1.

10. Ontario's Harness Alliance

By joining forces to share costs, coordinate schedules and promote each other, Ontario's eight-track Harness Alliance proved you can increase wagering if you work together and are fortunate to have solid stewardship such as that provided by Toronto's Woodbine Entertainment Group.

9. Modern Legend posts 66-1 Derby upset

Dreamers take note. Retired GM executive Dave Drew owns, trains and cares for just one horse—and that homebred, Modern Legend, happened to post a 66-1 upset in the Canadian Pacing Derby against a four-horse Ron Burke armada.

8. JK She'salady/Nancy Johansson/3 Brothers

What more can be said about a perfect 2 year old that nabbed the Horse of the Year title, catapulted trainer Nancy Johansson to the Rising Star Award, and helped the three Katz brothers to a share of the Owner of the Year Award?

7. Yonkers taps into France

Finding new betting markets will be key to the sport's survival and Yonkers' Sunday matinee experiment earned more than $7.5 million in European handle in just five weeks.

6. Sebastian K goes sub-1:50

Sebastian K not only became the first trotter to break the 1:50 in a race on a traditional oval, he obliterated the barrier by a full second and did it on a five-eighths mile track—the lightning-fast dirt at Mohegan Sun at Pocono Downs.

5. Red Mile to get Historical Racing

The announcement that Historical Racing games are expected to debut at The Red Mile in Lexington in 2015 is a lifeline to one of the sport's most important institutions, and the partnership with iconic Thoroughbred institution Keeneland made it even more newsworthy.

4. Ron Burke

Spare me the "he trains a huge stable" argument. His numbers are mind-blowing. In 2014, Ron Burke became the first trainer to surpass $100 million in lifetime earnings, posted his second straight 1,000-win season (winning once every five starts) and set a new record for earnings in a year with more than $28 million banked. Jimmy Takter was flashier, but Burke posted numbers that will be tough to beat, except by him.

3. The new Meadowlands

In 2014, the smaller, hipper new grandstand at the Meadowlands welcomed its first Hambletonian and Breeders Crown and breathed new life into the sport's flagship facility.

2. Jack Darling

The low-key Canadian trainer not only led the charge for donations to get the Meadowlands Pace and Little Brown Jug on the CBS Sports Network, he then turned around and helped raise $100,000 for the family of late trainer Mark Austin.

1. Mohawk's $5-million card

Nothing's more important than increasing wagering and the $5.15 million bet on the Aug. 30 Metro/Canadian Pacing Derby card at Mohawk was an incredible achievement. With WEG's Jackpot Hi 5 wager on mandatory payout, more than $2 million was bet into that pool alone to drive total handle to double what it was for the same card in 2013.

Dr. Don Mossbarger Dies At 92

Donald E. Mossbarger, DVM, 92, founder of Midland Acres of Bloomingburg, Ohio, died peacefully in his sleep at home on Jan. 1, 2015.

Midland Acres was originally established in the 1960s to supplement Dr. Mossbarger's veterinary practice. Midland Acres has stood some of Ohio's best stallions such as Speed In Action, Final Score and Nobleland Sam. Today, Midland Acres stands nine stallions, including the 2008 Meadowlands Pace champion Art Official and 2011 Little Brown Jug winner Big Bad John.

Dr. Mossbarger was a tireless supporter of Ohio's harness racing industry, including the efforts to bring video lottery terminals to Ohio's racetracks. He was a member of the Little Brown Jug Society and a past president and former board member of the Ohio Harness Horsemen's Association. In 1994 Dr. Mossbarger was elected into the Ohio Harness Racing Hall of Fame and in 2014 he was selected as the 30th Little Brown Jug Wall of Fame honoree by the Delaware County Fair.

Ronnie Wrenn Jr. Wins Dash Title

Ronnie Wrenn Jr. won six races on Wednesday night (Dec. 31) at Sports Creek Raceway, giving him 849 victories for the season and his second consecutive North American dash crown. Wrenn won last year's dash title with 714 wins.

Wrenn and Aaron Merriman were in a fierce battle for the No. 1 spot in wins among all harness racing drivers in North America, with Merriman holding a 28-victory advantage, 799-771, heading into racing action on Dec. 12. But Wrenn closed out the month by winning 78 races over the final three weeks and vaulted past Merriman by one tally when he won four times on the Dec. 29 card at Northfield Park. He extended that margin to five when posting six wins to Merriman's two on Dec. 30 at Northfield.

Both drivers headed to Sports Creek on Wednesday night with Wrenn winning six and Merriman scoring once. That gave Wrenn 849 winning drives for the season to Merriman's 839.

The 28-year-old Wrenn was sidelined for much of January because of wrist surgery and also endured the loss of his father to cancer in May. Wrenn changed his colors to his father's black and maroon in tribute to his dad.

Despite the hardships, Wrenn this season joined a small group of drivers to win at least 700 races in back-to-back years. The others are Tim Tetrick, Tony Morgan, Dave Palone, Walter Case Jr., Jack Moiseyev, Herve Filion, and Mike Lachance. Tetrick and Morgan are the only drivers to do it more than once and Morgan is the only one to extend the streak beyond two years—winning at least 700 races from 2005-08 and also 1995-97. (USTA)

Pompano Sees Big Increase In Handle

Since opening the doors for the 51st season of live racing action in October, things have been on the rise at the Isle Casino Pompano Park.

Through 41 race dates, total handle is up an astonishing 34.4% even with 9 less total races to kick-off the 2014-15 campaign. There have already been four programs that eclipsed the half-million dollar mark in total handle, a feat that was not done last season until after the turn of the calendar year.

Handle peaked on Tuesday, Dec. 23, when a total of $847,199 was bet on the 11-race program, the highest handle on a live card in nearly 8 years, since February 2007. That same night, a Pick 4 carryover of nearly $7,700 fueled an all-time track record total Pick 4 pool of $50,147.

Brett Revington, Director of Racing, opted to make changes to the wagering menu after taking over the reins a few weeks prior to the 2014-15 season. Superfecta minimums were increased to 20 cents on each race, with the addition of a potential carryover if no one selected the superfecta order of finish. The 20-cent Jackpot Hi-Five was added in early December to the finale on each program, already paying out the jackpot twice, and currently sitting with a carryover just shy of $20,000.

The track also renewed a relationship with the TVG network, allowing exposure of the live racing action to a national audience.

"We remain committed to offering great value to our customers, a great product on the track, and the ability to be aggressive with guaranteed wagering pools," said Revington.

The popular Pick 4 which typically features a $5,000 Guaranteed pool, has been increased to $7,500 throughout the entire month of January in partnership with the USTA Strategic Wagering program. The Pick 4 will feature the $7,500 guarantee every night, with the exception of Saturday evenings.

On-track patrons have also been noticing big changes in their live racing experience, with more on the way.

Track officials were forced to close down the original grandstand constructed over 50 years ago, but they have added many amenities to the outdoor apron and outdoor seating area located in the homestretch. A brand new outdoor bar was constructed to overlook the track above the stadium seating, with terminals and wide-screen tvs at every turn. There were also other additions including a brand new winner's circle, with a food truck and live tellers added to the track apron.

"We are currently getting quotes and looking to possibly add a jumbotron to the infield to further improve the on track experience for our patrons, as well as continuing already popular promotions such as $1 night specials and our $1,500 cash 'Grand Giveaway,'" said Revington.

Darling, Siegelman Tapped For Awards

For their vision of giving back to life beyond the racetrack, the US Harness Writers Association has voted Jack Darling two Dan Patch Awards—the Unsung Hero and Good Guy awards—and Robbie Siegelman has been selected to receive the January Davies Humanitarian Award.

Darling was the driving force behind two major fundraising efforts in 2014—initiating a broad-based fundraising effort to support telecasts of the Meadowlands Pace and the Little Brown Jug and establishing a fund for the family of his late friend and fellow horseman Mark Austin. When both projects became overwhelming successes, both the drive for television fund and the campaign to help Austin's family, centered around a "tribute night" to Keith and Ron Waples, raised more than $100,000 for their respective causes.

Robbie Siegelman, a New York/New Jersey trainer, has been working with unsung heroes for years—human heroes, people with daunting life challenges, such as the effects of military service on veterans and their families, the underprivileged of large inner cities, kids battling the horrors of cancer. Siegelman's special tool is the use of one of the mostly universally-acclaimed means of therapy—the Standardbred horse.

Both men have rung up very good training statistics since the USTA began compiling conditioner standings in 1991, with both individuals having guided the winners of more than $10 million in that period.

Awards for Darling and Siegelman, along with the Dan Patch Horse of the Year and additional human awards, will be presented on Sunday, February 22, 2015 in Orlando, Florida. Tickets for this gala event, the Dan Patch Awards Banquet—Night of Champions, are now available. Tickets for the Dan Patch Awards Banquet are now available can be reserved via telephone or Email by contacting Judy Davis-Wilson at 302-359-3630 or Email: <mailto:zoe8874@aol.com> or Steve Wolf at 954-654-3757 or Email: stevenwolf1956@gmail.com.

Substantial savings on hotel rooms can be attained for this event, which is being held at the DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel Orlando at SeaWorld. A special rate of $115 can be reserved by calling 407-352-1100 BEFORE January 25, 2015, and mentioning code: Dan Patch or clicking here.
