Inside Posts An Advantage In Adios Elims

Although the race conditions for the Delvin Miller Adios allow—at the discretion of The Meadows’ race secretary Tom Leasure—to have eliminations either the week prior to the final or having same-day elimins and final, since 2008 the pacing classic has been contested with prior-week elimins. Ironically, the first year the change was made to eliminate the double-heat format, because The Meadows was closed due to renovations for the new slots facility, the Adios was contested at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono.

The race conditions for the final also allow Leasure the option of either having an open draw, having the posts determined by the official order of finish in the eliminations, or having the connections of the elim winners select their post position. Through 2015 the posts for the final were made via an open draw, with last year being the first that the elim winners were able to select their post, a policy that continues this year. This year’s Adios attracted 14 entries, who are divided into a pair of seven-horse eliminations on Saturday. The top four finishers in each, plus the richest of the two fifth-place finishers, will advance to the $400,000 final on Saturday afternoon, July 29.

The 7-5 morning-line favorites in the two elimins are Meadowlands Pace champ Huntsville and North America Cup and Hempt winner Fear The Dragon. Huntsville is the first reigning divisional champ and the first Meadowlands Pace winner to race in the Adios since Sweet Lou and A Rocknroll Dance, respectively, in 2012, while Fear The Dragon is the first North America Cup champ to start since Thinking Out Loud, also in 2012.

Three of the past four Adios finals have been won by a pacer who captured his elim; in the four years prior, no elim winner returned to capture the final. The 2016 Adios winner Racing Hill won his elimination and then trainer Tony Alagna selected post 4 for the final. While post 4 had been successful in six of the 21 Adios elimins contested since 2009, it was the first time the slot won the final. Manhattan Beach, who won the second elim last year and started from post 3 in the final, finished fourth.

Fifteen of the past 21 elimins have been won by horses starting inside post 4 (71.4 percent). Huntsville starts from post 7 in the first Adios elimination, a post that has won just one elim over the past eight renewals (Let’s Drink On It, 2014). Fear The Dragon starts from post 3 in the second elim, a slot that has won three elimins (Versado, 2010; Alsace Hanover, 2011; and Manhattan Beach, 2016).

Dave Palone didn’t hesitate when asked which was his favorite starting spot at his home track.

Dave Palone, who recently went past the 18,000-win mark for his career and is easily the all-time winningest driver at The Meadows, didn’t hesitate when asked which was his favorite starting spot at his home track. “The five. And it’s not even close,” said Palone about the starting spot that has a win average of 17.3 percent at The Meadows in 2017. “You are right there behind the car and you have a good angle going into the turn and you can pretty much see what’s going on on both sides of you. Whether you have to hit the gas because a guy outside is leaving, or if a guy does beat you out from the inside, you are looking for a spot. It's the perfect spot to leave from here.”

Looking back at past Adios renewals, in 2009, Vintage Master finished second in his elimination and then landed post 1 in the open draw for the final. Despite the inside post, driver Daniel Dube got away eighth with Vintage Master, but he was able to rally his charge for the victory at odds of 13-1. That year, elim winners If I Can Dream, Mr. Wiggles and Well Said, respectively, drew posts 2, 7 and 9 for the final. Mr. Wiggles finished second while the 2-5 favorite Well Said was third.

In 2010, elim winners Versado, Pang Shui and Rockin Image, respectively, drew posts 3, 5 and 9 for the final. The final was won by 17-1 shot Delmarvalous (who finished third in his elim), who overcame post 8 for the victory. Delmarvalous is the only Adios champ to start from post 8 since 2009; the other seven winners all started from inside post 4.

Alsace Hanover parlayed a win in his Adios elim to a final victory (from post 3) in 2011, with fellow elim winner Custard The Dragon second (from post 1). In 2012, elim winners Sweet Lou and Bettor’s Edge had no luck in the final after respectively starting from post 4 and 2, as they finished fourth and sixth behind Bolt The Duer.—By Gordon Waterstone

Hambo, Oaks Hopefuls
In Action At Meadowlands

While the Stanley Dancer Memorial Trot and Delvin Miller Memorial Trot were great previews for the upcoming Hambletonian and Oaks, respectively, this weekend’s Meadowlands cards are full of 3-year-old trotters trying to get to their best form and perhaps a start in the big races on Saturday, Aug. 5.

On Friday night, Races 1, 5, 7 and 10 include sophomore trotters. The horse probably most worth watching is in Race 7, and will start from post 1. That’s Victor Gio IT. The Jimmy Takter-trained son of French sire Ready Cash has shown speed, trotting in 1:52.2 on July 8 and winning two of four starts. But he has also been erratic, breaking stride while on the lead in a June 23 race.

On Saturday night, seven trotting fillies compete in the $49,870 Tompkins Memorial (Race 4). The field includes Overdraft Volo (post 7), who won her Delvin Miller Memorial division one week earlier for driver Andy Miller.

The Tompkins division for the colts drew a field of 10 for Race 7. Yes Mickey is the only horse in the race not eligible to the Hambletonian. Dover Dan is the fastest with a mark of 1:52.4 taken at Pocono earlier this year, plus a victory in his last start, a 1:53.3 score in a PA All Stars, also at Pocono.

Race 6 is a straight conditioned trot for 3-year-old colts and geldings and the field includes one very serious Hambletonian hopeful, International Moni (post 3). The colt by the French sire Love You and out of the great mare Moni Maker was scheduled to race July 8 at the Meadowlands, but was scratched sick because of a bout of colic. That race would have been his first since winning the Goodtimes at Mohawk on June 17. Luckily, the colt did not need surgery.

“Fortunately we didn’t have to intervene and everything rectified itself,” trainer Frank Antonacci told Harness Racing Communications of the colt’s colic episode. “It was one of those oddball, unexplainable kinds of incidents. For him to recover the way he did and a week later go out there and qualify the way he did I think is indicative of what a good horse he really is.”

International Moni qualified at the Meadowlands on July 11, finishing second in 1:53.3, but driver Scott Zeron and Antonacci are looking at this week’s race as a tune-up for the Hambletonian.

Also in Race 6 is Enterprise, a winner of four of five starts this year for trainer Marcus Melander. Like International Moni, Enterprise’s last race was the Goodtimes final, when he finished fourth after leading most of the race. Melander reported the horse was sick immediately after the race. He qualified on July 8 (trotting in 1:53.1) and will start from post 8 Saturday with Brian Sears in the sulky.

Claiming Frenzy At Scioto Downs

Scioto Downs’ general manager Stacy Cahill expects a track record to fall on Saturday night, but not one that occurs on the racetrack. Rather, with 13 races on the 14-race card being claimers and a season-long flurry at the claiming box, Cahill believes more than 50 claims will be put in on some of the 126 horses who have been entered for a tag, which range from a price of $7,500 to $30,000.

“I have been here for 30 years and in all my years here in the race office I have never seen virtually an entire card of claimers, this is a first for me,” said Cahill. “They are great races to watch and wager on because you don’t have horses dropping down so they are very competitive. We have consistently had between 40 and 50 claims put in every Saturday night, including multiples. I think this Saturday night we will most likely set a record for most claims, for us anyway.”

Looking at Saturday’s race pages, a “z”—which notes in the program that a horse was claimed—can be seen 104 times. Twenty horses racing Saturday will be starting for a barn different than their last time out.

That list includes the 7-year-old Somebeachsomewhere stallion Some Heart Throb, who has been claimed the last four times out. He was claimed on June 23 after finishing fifth at odds of 42-1 in a $12,500 claimer, and he was then claimed for $12,500 again on July 1 after finishing second (by a nose) at odds of 6-1. Bumped to $15,000 on July 8, Some Heart Throb was claimed after finishing third at odds of 7-1. Last time out he was again claimed for $15,000 while finishing third at odds of 8-1.

Age doesn’t matter as the 11-year-old Mr. Coolie has been claimed his last three starts, first on June 23 when he finished third in a $12,500 claimer. The son of No Pan Intended was then claimed after a win in a $12,500 claimer and then after another win in a $15,000 claimer. Mr. Coolie is back in for a tag of $20,000 on Saturday.

Cahill said she believes the Scioto record for the most claims entered on a single horse was 14 on a $15,000 claimer. There is no requirement that a claimed horse be moved up in price the following start.

“They can drop or go up,” said Cahill. “We asked the horsemen if they wanted us to make them go up for a start and they said no, so you can do anything you want with a claimer.”

Cahill also noted Scioto’s rules state a claimed horse must remain in Ohio for 30 days and cannot be taken out of state for 60 days. For example, a horse claimed at Scioto could be sent to race at Northfield Park within the first month, but any plans to ship outside the state must wait two months.—

Gerrity Memorial Attracts Stellar Field

Saturday night’s ninth annual $260,000 Joe Gerrity Jr. Memorial for older horse pacers has attracted a stellar field with combined earnings of more than $2.5 million this year. The 14-race card boasts total purses topping $500,000, including four divisions of New York Sires Stakes for 3-year-old colt pacers.

While the Gerrity is limited to the eight richest horses of the year, the conditions also allow for the winner of the previous year’s renewal to make the cut even if he’s not on that list, which would bring the field to nine. But with last year’s champ, Wiggle It Jiggleit, still on the shelf, that kept the field list, which would bring the field to nine. But with last year’s renewal to make the cut even if he’s not on that list, that kept the field at eight. Just missing the field by $1,710 was Mel Mara, who

The richest of this year’s Gerrity field is Keystone Velocity, whose $618,000 in seasonal earnings is buoyed nicely by his victories in the $529,000 George Morton Levy final and $500,000 Franklin final. Keystone Velocity has the outside post 8 in the Gerrity, a starting spot that has won just 30 of 619 starts this year at Saratoga (4.8 percent).

Starting from post 7 is Mach It So, who comes into the race off a win in the $427,400 Haughton Memorial. Finishing second by a neck to Mach It So in the Haughton was Boston Red Rocks, who starts from post 1 in the Gerrity.

“I’ve only driven him four or five times lifetime, but I love the horse,” said driver Brett Miller. “That was a heartbreaker there the other night (in the Haughton). Granted, my horse went a brutal trip parked the entire way, but I thought he was a winner. Obviously, my horse was getting a little tired, but Mach It So dug back in and got us.”

Boston Red Rocks, who won the Breeders Crown final as a 2-year-old and went past the $1-million mark in career earnings late last year, comes into the Gerrity winless in 10 starts in 2017. However, the Steve Elliott-trained son of Rocknroll Hanover has six second-place finishes, including the Haughton Memorial and the $240,000 Graduate final. Actually, Boston Red Rocks had a “bridesmaid sweep” of the Graduate Series as he also finished second in all three preliminary rounds.

Miller is optimistic his charge can break his 2017 maiden in the Gerrity, especially starting from the inside post.

“I’m anxious to race him at Saratoga having the rail,” said Miller. “Boston Red Rocks may not be a well-known leaver, but I’ve cranked him up before and he can get out of the gate fast. Having the rail, I think we have a good shot.” — By Gordon Waterstone

Meadowlands Announces OOC Rules For Hambo Day Stakes

The Meadowlands is requiring that all horses entered in the stakes listed here be stabled at an approved training facility within a 150-mile radius (as the crow flies) of the Meadowlands or in the stable area at Vernon Downs by 8 p.m. (EDT) on Monday, July 31, and be made available for out-of-competition testing as requested.

The stakes are all part of the Saturday, Aug. 5 race card; the Cane Pace, Sam McKee Memorial (U.S. Pacing Championship) Lady Liberty, John Cashman Memorial, Dr. John Steele Memorial (Fresh Yankee).

This time frame was chosen to avoid conflict with the Spirit of Massachusetts trot and the Adios, as both of those stakes are raced the previous weekend.

There will be no charge for the stabling at Vernon and a discounted hotel rate of $20 per night will again be offered to those with these stakes horses.

Trainers for all of the horses entered in those stakes are responsible for informing the Meadowlands Racing Office at (877) 782-5130 of where each horse will be stabled from July 31 until the stakes have been raced.

Questions should be directed to Brice Cote at (609) 558-5062. (Meadowlands)

Blais Hoping For Calmer “Hurricane” In Adios Elimns

Hurricane Beach’s career got off to a stormy start, but trainer Luc Blais’ forecast calls for better days ahead as the 3-year-old pacer continues to mature.

A headstrong youngster, Hurricane Beach was gelded last year and has won three of six races this season. He heads to Saturday’s eliminations of the $450,000 Delvin Miller Adios Pace for the Orchids at The Meadows off a 9 1/4-length win in 1:51 at Harrah’s Philadelphia on July 9.

“He’s got the physical (attributes) to be a top horse.”

—Luc Blais

Hurricane Beach is 20-1 in the elim. Daniel Dube will drive Hurricane Beach for Blais and owner Determination Stable.

“He’s got the physical (attributes) to be a top horse,” Blais said. “But to be a top horse you have to be smart too. With racing and maturity, I think he’s going to do better. We want to have patience. He has lots of speed that horse. Waiting for him, I think he’s going to get better and better. He’s a nice horse, a big horse, strong and very fast.”

Hurricane Beach is a son of Somebeachsomewhere out of the mare Blazing Yankee. He was purchased for $230,000 at the 2015 Lexington Selected Sale and is a half-brother to world-record-setting Hurricane Kingcole. His family also includes stakes-winners Lady Luvs Diamonds, Banner Yankee and Electric Yankee.

Blais raced Hurricane Beach only three times last year, with a best finish of third in a conditioned race, before putting the horse away for the season.

“He was very hot last year,” Blais said. “I didn’t want to go too far with him because I knew he was a little bit aggressive. Sometimes you keep racing and you make a crazy horse. That’s why we turned him out right away. We brought him back and took our time with him. He came back pretty good. I think he is better than last year.”

Hurricane Beach was second in his 2017 debut and won his next start. He made it two in a row with a victory in a career-best 1:50.3 in a division of the Somebeachsomewhere Stakes on June 3 at Mohawk and then finished fourth in his elimination of the North America Cup, failing to advance to the final. A week later in the consolation division, he sped to the first quarter in :25.1 and half in :53 before finishing fifth.

Blais, whose best known recent successes include two-time O’Brien Award-winning trotter Intimidate and Ontario Sire Stakes champion trotter Emoticon Hanover, gave the gelding a week off in the field before returning to work. He made equipment changes for Hurricane Beach’s most recent race, the win at Philly.

“He raced good,” said Blais, who worked with stakes-winning pacers such as Goliath Bayama and Goodtime Bayama during his days in Quebec with Yves Filion’s Bayama Farms. “Maybe he calmed down. Danny said he was more in control. We’ll see. “We just need a little bit of luck.” (HRC)

Campbell Will Head New Rule-Book Initiative

The U.S. Trotting Association will join an industry-wide initiative to review the rules of racing promulgated by the Association, to create a rule book that every harness racing jurisdiction will adopt and enforce. The initiative, chaired by new Hambletonian Society president John Campbell, will conduct a detailed and comprehensive review of the rules of racing, with input from all stakeholders.

The initial goal of this effort is to identify rules that should be clarified, modified or expanded to enhance uniform adoption and interpretation and to more accurately reflect contemporary racing conditions. The group will ultimately work to incorporate changes to existing USTA rules and seek their adoption with state and provincial racing commissions.

“We should have universal rules throughout harness racing, throughout North America,” says Campbell. “That is something I’ve felt quite strongly about for a long time. I don’t believe some of our rules are worded as well as they could be. That can make it difficult for judges to rule consistently. If the wording were made more concise and definitive, it would be easier for judges.

“I think there is more of an impetus for the Commissions to go by USTA rules right now than there has been in the past. The beneficiaries are twofold— this will benefit the gamblers betting on our game across North America as well as participants and judges. It will be better for all involved to get this accomplished.”

It’s anticipated that there will be some review and revision of rules completed prior to the Sept. 1 deadline required for USTA rule changes to be considered in 2018, but Campbell cautions the effort will be a sustained one over time.

“It’s not something to be done quickly,” he said. “It will be a long thought process to get the wording done right.”

While every aspect of the rules of racing will be considered, the initial areas of scrutiny will be driver safety and fitness, fair start, recall and starting gate rules, horses coming out of a hole, causes of interference, and in the era where so much handle is generated by simulcast, conduct of post parades.

Members of the committee include driver Yannick Gingras, Hall of Fame driver and racing official Dave Magee and driver Jeff Gregory, chairman of the USTA Trainer-Driver Committee, as well as retired Hall of Fame driver Bill O’Donnell, now serving as president of the Central Ontario Standardbred Association.

Brett Revington of the Pennsylvania Racing Commission will participate, as will presiding judges from both the U. S. and Canada, Don Harmon, Tim Schmitz, Jeff Tallarino, Bill McLinchey, Tom Miller and Dan Kazmaier.

Racetrack executive and USTA director Jason Settlemoir, USTA directors Dick Brandt, chairman of the rules committee, and Steve McCoy, former president of the Ohio Harness Horsemen’s Association, who helped craft rules and policies for the Association following the introduction of racinos, will also contribute.

Registrar TC Lane will serve as the USTA representative, to assist in coordination and execution of the group’s agenda. In addition, there will be two non-voting members, horseman Gary Buxton and professional harness racing gambler and former horseman Les Stark. — (HRC)

Goshen Yearling Sale Catalog & Roster Available

The complete roster and pedigree pages for the third annual Goshen Yearling Sale on Sunday, Sept. 10, at the Mark Ford Training Center in Middletown, N.Y., are now available on the web. GoshenYearlingSale.com houses a PDF link of the printed sale catalog, complete with all the pedigrees for the 115 yearlings being offered. In addition, a complete sortable roster is also available with individual links to TrackIT pedigrees which offer real time updates to current performers.

The sale features strong consignments from Hanover Shoe Farms, Winbak Farm, Blue Chip Farms, Concord Stud and Cameo Hills Farm.

The Goshen Yearling Sale has already produced a number of successful and up-and-coming graduates, including multiple stakes winner Roaring To Go p,2, 1:50.4 ($341,365), as well as 2017 early season’s leaders All On Top Hanover p,2, 1:52.3—’17 and Venier Hanover p,2, 1:53.3f—’17, and quite a few others that are just getting started at time of cataloging.

The sale features strong consignments from Hanover Shoe Farms, Winbak Farm, Blue Chip Farms, Concord Stud and Cameo Hills Farm. Colts and fillies eligible to the most attractive regional programs are included in the 56 trotters and 59 pacers cataloged.

The first yearlings by the brilliant world champions Captaintreacherous p,3, 1:47.1 and Sweet Lou p,1:47f will also be offered.

Hip #35 Captain Miraculous, a colt by Captaintreacherous and a brother to the $500,000 stakes winner Rockin Finish p,4, 1:50f, will be sold by Cameo Hills Farm and Hip #4 Jack N Jules, a Sweet Lou colt and the first foal from a sister to the world champion Bigtown Hero p, 1:47.3f, will be in the Concord Stud Farm consignment.

Goshen Yearling Sale president Bob Boni noted, “We looked very carefully at this year’s racing schedule and worked closely with industry stakeholders to avoid date conflicts with other sales and major stakes races. Ultimately, I believe we succeeded as the sale is slated for the first Sunday after Labor Day when the Northeast region is relatively quiet.”

The sale facility is centrally located within a ninety-minute drive of all the prime harness racing sites in the tri-state area.

Printed catalogs are being mailed on Aug. 1 and will be available at the Hambletonian Festival at the Meadowlands racetrack, as well as at other area racetracks and training centers in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

To request a sale catalog, please call (201) 863-2082 or fill out an online request on our website: GoshenYearlingSale.com.

Ohio Legend Maynard Hagemeyer Dies At 98

Maynard F. Hagemeyer, 98, a legend in southern Ohio’s harness racing community, particularly for the time he spent at the Warren County Fairgrounds/Lebanon Raceway, died July 16, at his home in Clarksville, Ohio. He passed away in the same room he was born in on Nov. 22, 1918.

He is survived by his wife, Stella, whom he married Nov. 16, 1945. They celebrated more than 71 years of blissful marriage.

Mr. Hagemeyer was the son of Fred J. Hagemeyer and Bessie E. Bevan. He attended elementary school at Spring Hill (a one-room schoolhouse) and graduated high school at Massie Township School in Harveysburg in 1936. He also attended the University of Cincinnati in business administration.

He always loved horses, and in his youth showed Percheron and Belgium horses throughout the U.S. In 1940, he traveled through the Panama Canal transporting draft horses to Chile.

Mr. Hagemeyer was drafted in the U.S. Army in 1941 and served almost five years during World War II, with 2 1/2 years overseas. He attained the rank of captain and commanded a company in the 23rd replacement battalion in North Africa and Italy. He served under General George Patton in North Africa and General Mark Clark in Italy.

Before being shipped overseas, he was stationed at Camp Sutton in North Carolina where he first met Stella Adcox. Mr. Hagemeyer and his friend were on a weekend leave in Charlotte when they randomly picked a name out of the phone book. It turned out to be Stella’s roommate. When Mr. Hagemeyer saw the beautiful girl in the doorway, he said, “That is my gal,” and she has been his “gal” ever since.

Mr. Hagemeyer took over the family farm in 1948. In addition to farming, he owned and operated various business ventures including an excavation business for 17 years, a feed mill in Clarksville for five years, an anhydrous ammonia and fertilizer business for 20 years, an egg business for nine years (with 6,000 laying hens), and a Standardbred racing and breeding business that he started in 1957 and continues today.

He was on the Warren County Fair Board for 42 years and the Warren County Veterans Commission for 20 years. He also served as a director of the Ohio Harness Horsemen’s Association and was the first president of the Harness Horse Youth Foundation.

Other survivors include four children, Mel (Pam), Della Aylor, Fred (Debbie) and Ted (Pam); grandchildren, Scott, Tiffany Linville, Kyle Aylor, Ashlee Johnson, Captain Steven, Cheryl Hanna, Nick and Shana; great-grandchildren, Hunter, Brandi Hanna, Riley Hanna, Lyndsay, Carlee Johnson, Jenny-Lynn Johnson, Mayree Johnson, Isaac Linville, Evan Linville, and Owen Linville.

The family will receive friends from 3-6 p.m. Friday, July 21, at Stubbs-Conner Funeral Home, Waynesville. A celebration of Maynard’s life will be held at 6 p.m. Friday at the funeral home. Condolences can be made at http://www.stubbsconner.com/.

Make Plans For Big Event
Night Before Hambletonian

This year there is a new event on the big Hambletonian weekend at the Meadowlands. The Hambletonian Party and Poker & Casino Night Charity Event will be held Friday, Aug. 4, at Meadowlands Racetrack, in conjunction with the evening’s racing card. Proceeds will benefit the Standardbred Retirement Foundation and the Harness Racing Museum & Hall of Fame.

Tickets are $50 per person and include open bar, appetizers, dessert and $25 in casino chips. As always, there will be many fantastic raffle prizes available and additional casino chips may be purchased through the night. The silent auction item is six tickets to the general manager’s suite for a New York Yankees game. Open bar and table games begin at 6 p.m. in Victory Sports Bar & Club.

The poker tournament is $125 per person with limited seats available. The chip leader will receive a three-night, four-day trip for two to Las Vegas, including round-trip airfare, first-class hotel accommodations, food/beverage allowance and show tickets. Second place is $250, third $125. The tournament begins at 7:15 p.m. in Victory.

You can purchase tickets now by clicking here or by calling either the Harness Racing Museum or the Standardbred Retirement Foundation. Sponsorships are also available. If interested contact Janet Terhune or John Mayo at the Harness Racing Museum at 845.294.6330 or Tammy Cailliau at the Standardbred Retirement Foundation at 732.446.4422. Tickets will also be available online and at the door.

Our 2017 fundraising goals are far short of our budget. Please consider a donation now in order for HHYF to continue our quality programs.

Your check, no matter what amount, will make a difference.

Mail today to: HHYF, 16575 Carey Road, Westfield IN 46074.

HHYF also accepts credit card donations through the PayPal button at HHYF.org

All donations are tax-deductible as allowable by law.
MICHIANA CLASSIC YEARLING SALE

Tornado hits Buffalo Raceway, racing canceled

Racing and simulcast wagering at Buffalo Raceway has been canceled for the remainder of the 2017 season due to significant damage created by a tornado that hit the Hamburg, N.Y., area on Thursday.

Katz remains in the moment with Ariana G

Marvin Katz understands the buzz associated with a filly taking on the boys in the Hambletonian, but following Ariana G’s win in last weekend’s Delvin Miller Memorial at the Meadowlands, the longtime owner and breeder was content to enjoy his horse’s present rather than speculate about her future.

Trotter In Secret tops Tattersalls at $140,000

Five-year-old gelded trotter In Secret was the top-selling horse at Sunday’s Tattersalls Summer Mixed Sale at the Meadowlands Racetrack, going for $140,000 to trainer Ron Burke and Burke Racing.

Lachance, Campbell set for one last battle

Harness driver Mike Lachance said he’s raced against fellow Hall of Famer John Campbell more times than anyone in the sport’s history. So, it’s fitting Lachance will race against Campbell one last time on July 30 in the Legends Day Trot at Clinton Raceway.

Brown compares Campbell to Bobby Orr

Driver Doug Brown has won eight Canadian Driver of the Year awards, a stack of driver titles on the Toronto circuit and earned a berth in the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame, yet he thinks fellow Hall of Famer John Campbell stands above all others.

NJ Gubernatorial candidate at Meadowlands

Phil Murphy, the New Jersey gubernatorial candidate, visited the Meadowlands Racetrack last Saturday night. A crowd of more than 10,000 was on hand to see a star-studded night of harness racing headlined by the $738,550 Crawford Farms Meadowlands Pace, the track’s signature race. Murphy presented the trophy to the winning owners of Huntsville, who scored a thrilling victory over Downbytheseaside.

Liberty Bell Reunion Night a success

Harrah’s Philadelphia kicked off its Summer Racing Series this past Friday, July 14, with a Liberty Bell Park Reunion Night at the track that was enjoyed by all in attendance.

Koch replaces Salvi as USTA District 12 director

Meadowlands Racetrack’s director of racing Peter Koch officially rejoined the U.S. Trotting Association Board of Directors on Monday, July 17.

Meadows SOA awards scholarships

The Meadows Standardbred Owners Association (MSOA) is awarding more than $15,000 this year in Collegiate Scholarship program. Five students that are sons and daughters of MSOA members will receive awards.

CHHA awards four college scholarships

The Christian Harness Horsemen’s Association is delighted to award scholarships to four very deserving students from harness racing families. One of our members heard we had nine applicants for two scholarships and quickly wrote a check so we could help more kids.

RUS MidAtlantic announces series

RUS MidAtlantic, a business advocacy group promoting racing under saddle in Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, and Virginia is proud to announce its schedule for the 2017 edition of the RUS MidAtlantic Trotting Series. This year, there will be a total of five races for horses of varying ability with two of the races being conducted at fairs while the other three taking place at pari-mutuel tracks.

SOA of NY, Yonkers award scholarships

Sandra Kaufman, chairman of the co-sponsored SOA of NewYork/Yonkers Raceway Scholarship Committee, has announced that John McDermott Jr. is the winner of the 2017-2018 Scholarship Award in the amount of $5,000. The second place award of $3,000 went to Christopher Regina and Olena Hauser picked up the third place scholarship award of $2,000.
