Post One And A Great Trip
And Pray For Rain

It’s not quite the same as the phrase made famous in 1948 when the battle cry of the Boston Braves was “Spahn and Sain and pray for rain,” but it’s similar.

The phrase made famous 66 years ago referred to the dominance of the baseball team’s standout pair of starting pitchers of Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain, who would then be able to brought back on short rest if a game was rained out.

Trainer Linda Toscano admits she is hoping for rain when she sends out her 5-year-old trotter Market Share against the top-ranked Sebastian K—who boasts that world record 1:49f mile on his resume—in Saturday night’s $238,500 Centaur Trotting Classic at Hoosier Park, as that trotter’s lone defeat in nine starts this year came on a “sloppy” surface at Mohawk Racetrack in July in the Maple Leaf Trot. Racing barefoot as usual, Sebastian K finished second by a nose to Intimidate in that race.

“Toscano added with a laugh.

Market Share has chased Sebastian K five times this year, but the Centaur may be his best shot yet at reversing the outcome.

Saturday night’s $238,500 Centaur Trotting Classic at Hoosier Park, as that trotter’s lone defeat in nine starts this year came on a “sloppy” surface at Mohawk Racetrack in July in the Maple Leaf Trot. Racing barefoot as usual, Sebastian K finished second by a nose to Intimidate in that race.

“I’m the last person in the world who should be complaining because I know now how people felt chasing my two around the last three years,” Toscano said about Market Share and Chapter Seven, respectively voted the Older Trotter of the Year the last two years (Chapter Seven was also the 2012 Trotter of the Year).

“So I have to quietly take my lumps when they come my way, but I don’t like it,” Toscano added with a laugh.

Market Share has chased Sebastian K five times this year, but the Centaur may be his best shot yet at reversing the outcome. Driver Tim Tetrick will start from post 1 in the Centaur, with trainer-driver Ake Svandstedt lining up in the six hole with the 8-year-old Sebastian K.

Toscano said it’s been tough this year trying to battle against Sebastian K’s front-end speed and ability to control the tempo.

“Yes, it’s frustrating,” Toscano admitted. “(Market Share) has made two very unusual miscues this year (making early breaks in the Cutler Memorial final in May at the Meadowlands and last time out on Sept. 6 in an Open Trot at Mohawk Sun at Pocono Downs), but other than that, he’s raced very consistent.

“It’s just that, unfortunately, when you have to be the sacrificial lamb and come first-up against that horse (Sebastian

K), he just has so much crazy speed. He has such a beautiful mouth that (Svandstedt) can shut him down and speed him up. Poor Market Share has had to go third quarters first-up in :26 and change.”

After winning 21 of 39 starts his first three years of racing, Market Share has just three wins in 12 starts in 2014. Toscano said she’s shrugged off the naysayers who were heard two starts back when Market Share finished third behind Sebastian K in the $236,000 Crawford Farm Trot at Vernon Downs.

“Some people said he wasn’t even good enough to be second a couple weeks ago at Vernon, but his last quarter was in :26 and change,” said Toscano. “What more do you want from the horse?”

Toscano said that while it’s been a tough task to try and topple Sebastian K, she noted it might be even tougher in the Allerage Farm at The Red Mile on Oct. 5.

“That trotter is going to eat up that place,” Toscano concluded. “If it is a beautiful day, do not be surprised if you see 1:48. He’s that kind of horse. I look for rain, that’s what I’m looking for. I am rooting for rain.”

It appears Toscano won’t be getting her wish Saturday at Hoosier Park in Anderson, Ind. The forecast calls for a high of 80 degrees and zero percent chance of rain.—By Gordon Waterstone

At first, all we could say was “Wow!”
Now, we’d just like to say “Thank You!”

A huge crowd was on hand and excitement was in the air at Monday’s sale. Buyers stepped up to show their enthusiasm for both Ohio yearlings and the resurgent Ohio program, with active bidding and record prices. The sale topper, at $150,000, was the highest-priced yearling ever sold in Ohio.

We thank our consignors and everyone who attended and bid on or purchased yearlings. We look forward to seeing you again next year!
Anndrovette Could Make Milton Her Third Major Win Of Season

Saturday night’s Milton Stakes for pacing mares could be an important race for deciding year-end honors among the older pacing mare division. Going into the Milton, Anndrovette, a three-time Dan Patch Older Mare Pacer of the Year, has two big wins to her credit, the Betsy Ross at Harrah’s Philadelphia on May 25 and the Roses Are Red at Mohawk on June 14. Then on Hambletonian Day at the Meadowlands, Rocklamation edged Anndrovette by a neck at the wire in the Lady Liberty Pace, with Shelliscape third.

The $286,000 Milton final brings together Anndrovette and Shelliscape, but not Rocklamation, who was the 2013 Dan Patch Older Mare Pacer of the Year. Rocklamation failed to make the cut from her Milton elimination. Also in the Milton field are elim winners Yagonnakissmeornot and Krispy Apple.

The 7-year-old mare Anndrovette, who topped $3 million in earnings with her runner-up performance in the Lady Liberty, finished third in her Milton elimination after taking the lead at the half. Yagonnakissmeornot and Shelliscape got past her before the wire, with the time of the race 1:51.1.

Anndrovette is usually driven by Tim Tetrick, but will be handled by Doug McNair in the Milton final since Tetrick will be at Hoosier Park. Between races at the Delaware County Fair on Jugette Day, Tetrick discussed Anndrovette and said he thought she will be even better on Saturday night.

“She’s been battling sickness caused by allergies for awhile,” said Tetrick, who has driven the mare in many of her 104 career starts, and all but three of her 16 starts this season. “But I think she’ll be even better this week.”

Anndrovette, however, is starting from post 7, outside of Yagonnakissmeornot (post 2) and Shelliscape (post 5). The winningest post position at Mohawk is post 6 (15.2 percent) with post 2 second (13.7), but posts 1, 3 and 7 have double-digit winning percentages.— By Kathy Parker

 JK She’salady Puts Streak On Line At Hoosier Park

While the Centaur Trotting Classic headlines Saturday’s program at Hoosier Park Racing & Casino, the undercard offers plenty of compelling competition. A quartet of Kentuckiana Stallion Management Stakes for freshman fillies will be also be contested, with this year’s group including several talented 2 year olds that have already made headlines.

The Kentuckiana Stallion Management Stakes for pacing fillies attracted two divisions. Pennsylvania Sires Stakes (PASS) championship winner Southwind Roulette leads a group of seven fillies in the $153,200 first division, programmed as Race 9. The Somebeachsomewhere lass shows five wins from six starts and $284,448 in earnings for trainer Ron Burke.

Owned by Brad Grant and Howard Taylor, Southwind Roulette shows a speedy 1:51.4 mark and will make her first start outside the Keystone State, lining up in post 3 in the $153,200 first division.

Southwind Roulette is joined by a group of six fillies that include She’s A Hot Mess, third in the Champlain, and a trio of two-time winners in Cashaway, Bettor Be Steppin and local interest Image Of Felicia.

She’s A Great Lady winner JK She’salady brings her perfect record to Indiana with hopes of capturing the $151,950 second division. She will start on the outside of the six-filly field for trainer Nancy Johansson and 3 Brothers Stables.

Already a winner of $302,600 with a world record 1:50.1 mile, JK She’salady is the class of the group. She will be tested by Bedroomconfessions, runner-up in the She’s A Great Lady final. Tony Alagna sends the American Ideal out tested by Bedroomconfessions, runner-up in the She’s A Great Lady final. Tony Alagna sends the American Ideal out

A group of 15 filly trotters dropped in the box for Saturday’s event, yielding two divisions. SpeakTo Me tops the list and has drawn into the $154,150 first division, slated as Race 2 on the program.

Prix D’Ete Returns At Hippodrome 3R

Eight of the top 4-year-old pacers in North America will do battle Sunday afternoon, Sept. 21, in the $200,000 revival of the Prix D’Ete at the Hippodrome 3R.

Headlining the field is Apprentice Hanover, trained by Ben Wallace. The son of Somebeachsomewhere enters the race off of a lifetime mark performance last week at Mohawk Raceway in 1:49.2. Jody Jamieson will do the driving from post 5.

Trainer Jimmy Takter will start Sunfire Blue Chip, who is on a four-race winning streak including a 1:49.2 triumph in the $50,000 Open at Mohegan Sun at Pocono Downs in his last start. Yannick Gingras returns to his home track to drive Sunfire Blue Chip. They did not fare well in the draw and will start from the outside in post 8.

The local favorite and all-age track record holder at the Hippodrome 3R is Duc D’Orleans, who starts from post 4. Back in 2013 he became the only horse ever to break the 1:53 mark at 3R, going in 1:52.4. He will be driven by native son Daniel Dube.

Sunshine Beach drew the rail and is the highest money earner in the field at $913,702, so a victory in the Prix D’Ete would make him a millionaire. He is locally co-owned by the Hudson Standardbred Stable of Montreal and has a record this year of 1:49 at Mohawk Raceway. He will be driven by Doug McNair.

Thomson, Parker & Marks Elected To Goshen

Joe Thomson, owner of Maryland-based Standardbred breeding operation Winbak Farm, has been elected to the Harness Racing Hall of Fame, the U.S. Harness Writers Association (USHWA) announced Tuesday.

Thomson and his wife JoAnn started Winbak Farm in 1991. The operation has ranked No. 2 among all breeders in purses earned each of the last 12 years, totaling more than $205 million since the start of 2002, and produced three Horse of the Year Award winners.

In addition, Bob Marks, the longtime marketing guru of Perretti Farms and a noted writer and handicapper, and Kathy Parker, the editor and general manager of The Horseman and Fair World, were elected to the Communicators Hall of Fame.

The three honorees will be inducted during ceremonies at the Harness Racing Museum and Hall of Fame in Goshen, N.Y., on July 5, 2015.

Thomson, who lives in Phoenixville, Pa., is the president of the Pennsylvania Harness Breeders Association. He also is co-owner of The Red Mile, the historic harness racing track in Lexington, Ky., and serves as a director of the Hambletonian Society.

In 2013, Thomson received the Stanley F. Bergstein-Proximity Achievement Award from USHWA, an honor bestowed by the organization that is second only to election to the Hall of Fame. Other honors for Thomson include being named to the Little Brown Jug Wall of Fame in 2009.

Marks’ work in harness racing spans 50 years, starting as a contributor to Trotter Magazine and later as a writer and editor for Trotter Weekly. He handicapped for Top Trotter’s “Horse Racing Weekend Preview,” in 2009. As a writer, Parker has traveled the world to report on the sport's top events, including all major stakes races in North America, plus the Elitlopp in Sweden, Prix d’Amerique in Paris, and Inter-Dominion in Sydney.

Among Parker’s honors are a Hervey Award for excellence in writing, the Harness Horsemen’s International Media Award, and the Kentucky Harness Horsemen’s Media Award. In 2010, Parker’s The Horseman And Fair World received the Proximity Award from USHWA.

Ontario horseman Mark Austin Die

Mark Anthony Austin, one of Ontario’s most popular and successful trainers, died Sunday, Sept. 14. He was 54.

Mr. Austin died while at Flamboro Downs, where he was racing.

Hailing from southwestern Ontario, Mr. Austin was introduced to harness racing by his uncle, Bud, and got into the sport full-time after high school. One of his earliest brushes with greatness came courtesy of Dr. Joe Johnston, who gave Austin a yearling to break in 1988. That homebred Worthy Bowl colt would later be turned over to trainer Bud Fritz, and go on to never lose a race on North American soil: A Worthy Lad.

Mr. Austin would later work for trainer Jack Darling in the mid to late 1990s during a run that produced Gothic Dream and Northern Luck. Shortly after that stretch working with Darling, Mr. Austin made the move with wife Julie from a Windsor-based stable to the Fergus area.

During the 2000s, Austin's stable was consistent and solid; his earnings never dipped below $200,000. In 2009 his earnings surpassed $800,000 thanks to the likes of older pacers Go Get Her, Part Shark and XLB Patrick. According to the U.S. Trotting Association, which began keeping trainer records in 1991, Mr. Austin had 781 wins and $8.4 million in purse earnings.

The two horses that more recently made headlines for Austin were Sparky Mark and Fool Me Once. Sparky Mark enjoyed a stellar run at Woodbine’s top class from the end of 2011 into 2013, winning multiple preferred events and earning a spot in the 2012 Canadian Pacing Derby final. Fool Me Once was one of 2013’s top three-year-old pacers, knocking heads with Captaintreacherous, Vegas Vacation and Sunshine Beach throughout the season. Austin selected the son of Art Major as a yearling, and he’s won 16 races from 38 starts at the highest levels with multiple sub-1:49 wins. His lifetime best 1:48.1 came in his 2013 Pepsi North America Cup elimination.

Mr. Austin is survived by his wife, Julie Ann (Davis) and his loving daughters, Paige, Paula and Marcie. He was the beloved son of Thomas E. and Aileen Austin and loving brother of Tim (Debbie), Perry and Kelly (Dan) Klinard. He will also be lovingly remembered by his mother-in-law, Rose Davis; brother-in-law, Stephen (Cynthia); and many nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Thursday, Sept. 18, in Fergus. Memorial donations can be directed to the Heart & Stroke Foundation.
